GIVE SERIAL DRAFT NUMBERS

These Numbers Will be Posted Publicly Probably Tomorrow—No Drafting This Week.

The county exemption board has been busy this week giving serial numbers to the men who were registered on June 5. Instruction from Washington are to post the numbers publicly as soon as given, and this list will probably be put up tomorrow. One set of the registration cards will be sent to the adjutant general of Missouri in Jefferson City tonight, and the other set will be kept here.

No drafting whatever has been done as yet and probably will not be done for several days.

Same Numbers in Every Precinct.

Under the law the names and numbers must be posted and copies furnished the press. When a number is drawn in the lottery later in Washington it will draft the man holding that number in every precinct in the country.

The Democrat-Forum received several calls from over the county last night, asking if the drawing for the draft had begun. One man said that the message had come saying that numbers 1, 5, 9 and 63 had been drawn. This hoax was carried out in other states, too.

A FLAG PARADE

PATRIOTIC DEMONSTRATION WILL MARK S. S. CONVENTION SUNDAY.

INTERESTING PROGRAM

Mary Christine Cox Will Be the Cradle Roll Baby in Feature by Christian Sunday School.

Polk Township Sunday School convention will be held, 2:30 o'clock, Sunday, in the Presbyterian church. The flag parade starts from the Christian church at 2:10, going south to the M. E. church, South, on Buchanan, then east on Second to Main, then south to the Presbyterian church. All the children under 12 years of age are requested to meet at their church at 2 o'clock and be ready to fall in line as the parade passes their church. All teachers in the Elementary Departments are requested to accompany their pupils. The children of the Presbyterian Sunday school will be in line to receive the pupils of the other schools, and to seat them and their teachers in the front of the church.

The program will have some very interesting features, one of them is the rocking of the Cradle Roll Baby by the Christian Sunday School, under the direction of Mrs. F. P. Robinson. This is always a very pretty service, but it will be more beautiful than ever, as the baby, Mary Christine Cox, is the daughter of one of Maryville's most beloved pastors.

The children will enjoy a treat in the talk on the Value of Story Telling given by Miss Eva Davis. Miss Davis not only interests the children, but also the grown-ups with the illustrations and stories she gives.

The Primary Department of the Main Street Methodist Church S. S. will sing a song entitled, "I Think When I Hear That Story of Old," under the direction of Miss Mary Q. Evans.

After this song, the children of the Elementary Department will be dismissed, but teachers and officers of all schools will be asked to remain for the interesting talks to be given by Philip Colbert, on the Teen Age Problem.

President Richardson on "How the Sunday School Can Get Credit for Work Done in the Bible in the State Schools."

Dr. E. L. Harrington on the "Home Department."

Prof. A. H. Cooper on "Teachers' Training."

The most interesting part of the program will be showing the standing of each school in the township, measured by the International Standard of Standard which will be shown by Mrs. R. M. Barry.

A. B. Dowden will be the presiding officer.

Have Dropped 35 Cents in Two Weeks and Will Go Lower.

Potatoes have dropped thirty-five cents in the last two weeks and are due to drop still lower, say the merchants of Maryville. Liberal supplies of shipped in potatoes have been the chief weakening influence on the Maryville market. Then the home supply is gradually coming on the market and this makes for lower prices.

JUDGE LINDSEY REFUSED TO "SNITCH" ON HIS BOY PALS

Head of Juvenile Court Won Hearts of Homeless Young Law Breakers by Keeping Their Confidence

FIGHTS CORPORATE CROOKS

In Battle for Social Justice the Little Judge Has Made Bitter Enemies---Appoint Committee to Spit on Him.

"Don't be a snitcher."

This is the first advice which Ben B. Lindsey, Judge of the Juvenile Court of Denver who is to lecture here during Chautauqua, gives to the young law breakers who are brought before him. The secret of Judge Lindsey's marvelous success in dealing with the youthful wrongdoers is that he has always urged them to not "snitch on their pals." The youngsters come to feel that the judge is a man in whom they can trust and they tell him all about themselves.

Judge Ben B. Lindsey

KEEPS THEIR CONFIDENCES

Judge Lindsey has never broken faith with his boys. When a boy tells his story to Ben Lindsey he knows that it will go no further. Judge Lindsey has been hailed into court for contempt because he refused to "snitch" on one of the boys who had confided in him.

By political trickery Judge Lindsey has had to stand for election to his office twelve times in fifteen years. In the last election he was given the largest majority ever recorded in a Denver municipal election.

Judge Lindsey will be at Chautauqua on the afternoon of the sixth day and will speak on "The Way to Reach the Human Heart."

SOME NEW PROBATE LAWS

Last Legislature Passed Many Measures to Expedite Administration of Estates.

Many new laws were passed by the last legislature to expedite the administration of estates in the probate court. These laws are now in effect.

Following is some of the more important statutes enacted:

Inventory and appraisement to be one paper instead of two, thereby avoiding duplication and expense.

Claims to be allowed must be presented within six months and one year from date of letters (heretofore, the time was not definitely fixed).

When a man dies, leaving no widow, the minor children under eighteen years, are entitled to the same allowance that the wife would be, had there been one. (Under the old law, the age limit was 15 years).

Orders of Publication, upon petition to sell real estate, can be made returnable in thirty days, instead of to the next term, as formerly provided. (This will permit sales to be ordered, made, reported and approved within forty-two days, where, under the operation of the old law, it took several months).

The law has been so amended that sales of real estate of minors and insane persons can be ordered, reported and approved at the same term, instead of being reported at the next term, as formerly provided.

THE MAIL FOR SOLDIERS.

Proper Way to Assure Safe Delivery of Letters Explained to Postmasters.

How to address mail to soldiers with the American expeditionary forces in France is explained by the daily postal letter, a publication sent to every postmaster by the postoffice department. All letters sent to American soldiers abroad are subject to domestic rates and classifications, and only United States stamps are valid.. The envelope should bear the complete designation of the division, regiment, company, and organization of the addressee, and the name and address of the sender. Under no circumstances should the sender attempt to designate on the envelope the location of the unit to which the letter is sent.

Mail addresses to members of the American forces in France is sent to New York and from there to Bordeaux, France, from where it is sent to the addressee.

An example of the proper manner of addressing such mail is: John Smith, Co. X, First Infantry, American expeditionary forces.

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With Othine Prescription.

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by any druggist under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine — double strength — and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine; ft is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

Hanging the Flag.

When a flag pole is in a slanting or horizontal position if the rope holding the upper corner of the flag be pulled very tight and the rope holding the lower corner be slackened somewhat, thus allowing the flag to drop slightly away from the pole, the wind will spill out of it. This will do much to prevent the flag from wrapping around the pole.

A little experimenting will show how much to slack away the lower corner. It depends on the size of the flag and the angle of the pole.—New York Sun.

Panama Canal Forts.

The fortifications for the defense of the Panama canal consist of seacoast forts at each end of the canal and field fortifications around the locks. The object of the seacoast forts at the canal terminals is to prevent an enemy in time of war from entering and blocking the canal by sinking vessels in it.

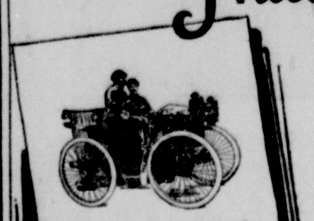
Why Michelin Quality Tires can be Priced so Moderately



The first car on pneumatics Michelin in 1895

Michelin Universal Tread

IT is impossible to build better tires than Michelins at any price. How, then, is it possible to sell Michelin Tires at prices actually below the average?

1st—Michelin invented the pneumatic automobile tire in 1895 and ever since has concentrated on the production of pneumatic tires only.

2nd—Because "Economical Efficiency" is the watch-word of the Michelin organization. Expenditures resulting in better tires or ultimate saving are cheerfully made, but otherwise scrupulously avoided. Resulting economies are passed on to Michelin users.

SAW FALL OF LIEGE.

South American Tells of Experience In Belgium.

L. Lilva of Columbia, South America, was in Burlington Junction Sunday the guest of O. F. Wilson and Son. Mr. Lilva has a large cattle ranch in Columbia and is in America for the purpose of studying modern breeding methods of registered Hereford cattle.

He visited the Wilson herd, near Burlington Junction in the forenoon, and, accompanied by Mr. Wilson and son and Walter Mendenhall, went to Tarkio in the afternoon and looked at the several fine Hereford herds on the Rankin ranches.

Mr. Lilva has spent the last three years in Europe and was in Liege, Belgium, when that city was attacked by the Germans. He said that 40,000 Belgian troops held a million Germans from the town for seven days but were finally overpowered by the foe.

Mr. Lilva had some interesting experiences in Europe as a result of the war. He is now on his way to his home in South America but will spend several days yet in the central west inspecting registered cattle. — Burlington Junction Post.

Mrs. Clark Andrews went to Shenandoah to visit a few days with relatives.

Miss Irma Linn of St. Joseph is the guest of her sister, Miss Audrey Linn, who is making her home with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Miller and attending the State Normal.

Now Is a Good Time To Treat Your Catarrh

Mild weather aid treatment.

Don't be misled into thinking that your Catarrh is gone. The first touch of winter weather will bring it back with all its discomforts.

But this is an excellent time to thoroughly cleanse the blood of the germs of Catarrh, and be forever rid of the troublesome sprays and douches that can never cure you.

S. S. S., the great blood purifier, searches out the germs of Catarrh which infest your blood, and chases them entirely out of your system. It is by far the most satisfactory treatment for the disease, because it reaches down to its very roots and gets at the cause. Write to-day for full information, and expert medical advice regarding the treatment of your own case. Take advantage of this chance to-day. Address Swift Specific Co., Dept. G Atlanta, Ga.

INDIAN CROESUS BUYS U. S. BONDS

Efforts to Invest Entire Fortune In Liberty Loan.

STORY OF GREAT SUCCESS

Oil Discovered on Lands Allotted Him by Government, and Money Poure Into His Pockets—Is Incompetent In Eyes of Law and Gives Large Sums to His Less Fortunate Tribesmen.

With nearly $800,000 on deposit to his credit in the United States treasury and in a dozen or more banks and with a monthly income of nearly $50,000 derived from oil lands in Oklahoma which he owns, an income more than seven times that of the president of the United States, Jackson Barnett, sixty-three years old, a full blood "incompetent" Creek Indian, living near Henryetta, Okla., through his guardian and by the aid of the department of the interior, sought some legal method by which the greater part of his capital could be invested in liberty bonds, says a recent statement issued by the interior department.

Rockefeller of the Indians.

While Mr. Barnett in point of wealth is the Rockefeller of the Indians in the United States, it is a noteworthy fact that fifty-six Indians of the Five Civilized Tribes of Oklahoma, to which he belongs, have more than $5,000 each to their credit in the United States treasury, many of these deposits far exceeding that amount, and 347 have more than $1,000 to their credit.

Barnett sprang into prominence a few days ago when Carl J. O'Hornett, a leading banker and capitalist of Henryetta, Okla., guardian of the Indian, telegraphed to Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma urging that steps be taken by the United States authorities to invest the greater part, if not all, of Barnett's cash capital in interest bearing liberty bonds. Senator Owen at once communicated with Secretary Lane regarding the suggestion, and the legal problems of the case are now under consideration with a view of determining if the funds of incompetent wards of the nation may be invested as suggested.

Barnett's Story.

The story of Barnett and his rise to wealth and national prominence is a romantic one. The son of a Creek chief, Barnett lived the life of a nomad of the plains, fishing and hunting and avoiding all contact with the white settlers who were slowly but surely encroaching upon and driving the Indians from their hunting grounds. When Indian territory became Oklahoma and the Creeks, Chicasaws, Choctaws, Seminoles and Cherokees, the five civilized tribes, were allotted lands for farming purposes in the eastern section of Oklahoma, Barnett vigorously opposed any movement on the part of the government to improve his condition in life, but the government nevertheless proceeded to execute its plans.

With other Indians of his tribe, Barnett was arbitrarily allotted a parcel of land in the district north of Tulsa, which later was to become the famous Cushing oil fields. Barnett indignantly refused to accept the land, which nevertheless was allotted to him, he explaining that it was fit only for coyotes and jack rabbits to starve in and in nowise suited to the requirements of an humble Indian whose sole desire was to be left alone so that he might hunt and fish and smoke at will.

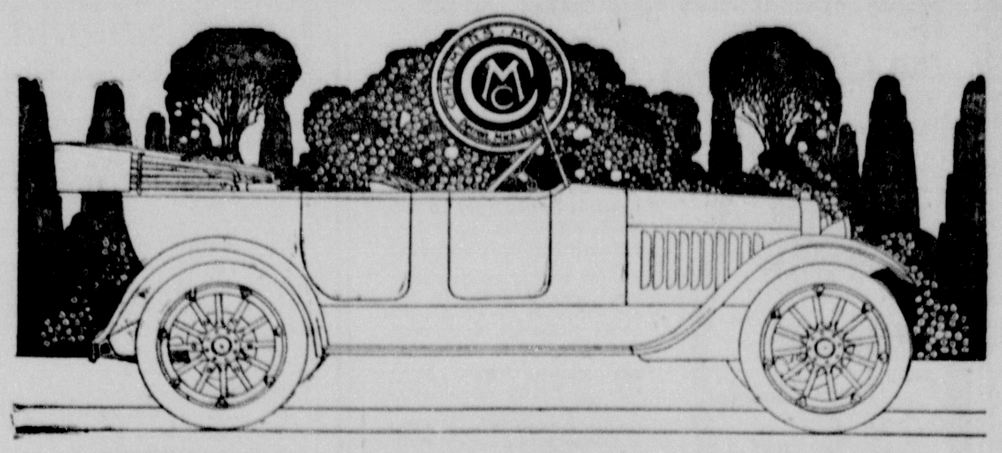
Oil Found on Land.

One day about 1905 oil was discovered in the vicinity of Barnett's land, and a few months later a company of eastern capitalists applied to the department of the interior for a long term lease of Barnett's allotment, which, it was discovered, fairly exuded rich oil throughout its length and breadth. In due time the lease was executed, and by its terms Barnett ever since has received part of the proceeds of the sale of oil from the wells on his property, the money being deposited in national banks of Oklahoma to his credit.

With the stolidity of the men of his race, Barnett displayed no enthusiasm or interest at the official announcement that the land he had spurned as useless and upon which he steadily refused to abide had become enormously valuable and promised to make him a multimillionaire. He declined from time to time to accept a greater portion of his income than was required to supply his humble needs. In signing receipts therefore he made his mark, and, being unable to read or write, he made no attempt to investigate the state of his finances. He seldom spent more than $50 a month for provisions, tobacco and other supplies, and what was left he distributed cheerfully among the less fortunate Indians of his tribe.

Pays Income Tax.

Reports to Secretary Lane on May 1 showed that Barnett had $755,893.06 deposited to his credit in various financial institutions. Of that sum $115,000 is on deposit in state and private banks in Oklahoma, drawing 4 per cent interest, $456,400.74 in nine national banks, drawing 3 per cent, and $184,492.32 in the United States treasury, on which no interest is paid. These deposits are increasing at the rate of $47,082.74 a month. Last year Barnett paid an income tax of $52,000 to the government



THIS IS BUT ONE OF THE TEN GORGEOUS NEW CHALMERS FOR THE FALL

It is the five passenger: there are nine more: a stunning Duplex, which seats four; a sturdy roadster; a very comfortable Cabriolet; a Sedan that is light and sensible; an ultra smart Town Car; a cozy Limousine; an alluring Landaulet; an eighty mile an hour (guarantee) Speedster; a trim, clean cut Touring Car to seat seven.

All of them rare in quality and rich in finish, so thoroughly out of the ordinary that they get the second look from your friends.

Among the ten is probably Your Car—the car that you said some one, some day, would surely build.

If you want speed here it is. If you want beauty here it is. If you want sedateness here it is. If you want supreme comfort here it is.

These ten Chalmers are all different. Yet they all have one common denominator: Quality.

They are ably constructed, and in our judgment Chalmers has never built before such good cars as these.

Possibly you have seen some of the new Chalmers about town. We had hoped to withhold this announcement until a month later, but good news travels fast and out of fairness to those who plan the purchase of a car at this time or later in the fall we are stating our fall plans on Chalmers now.

Come to our Sales Rooms and view at close range the Chalmers illustrated above. You will find it close to finality.

Raised Some Sheep.

J. P. Richardson, living two miles northwest of Elmo, thinks he has broken the record for a small bunch of sheep. He has 27 ewes that raised 36 lambs this summer, there being 15 pairs of twins in the bunch. At present market price of lambs it would make a profit of $20 for each ewe. He also sheared $4.50 worth of wool from each ewe, making a total profit of $24.50 for each ewe. A year ago last spring he bought these sheep for $11 a head, and last year they did nearly as well as this summer.—Elmo Register.

Norton Norris, DeLoss Sweet and Thelma Ruddell and Martha Williams of Fillmore, were dinner guests yesterday at the Hotel Bainum.

Misses Theresa Yehle and Anna Blatter returned last night from a several weeks' visit with relatives in Pierre, S. D.

Dr. Dean Family Leaves.

Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Dean and daughter, Miss Cleva, left Monday morning for Santa Fe, N. Mex., where they will make their future home. They stopped at Las Vegas, N. Mex., to spend the Fourth and will arrive in Sante Fe today. Dr. Dean practiced medicine in Burlington Junction ten years, selling his practice last spring to Dr. W. M. Hindman, who is now located here. The Deans did not move their household goods at this time, but will probably return in the fall to do this and make disposition of their home on East Main street.—Burlington Junction Post.

Mrs. Flora Quinn and Miss Ora Quinn were Fourth of July guests of Miss Goldia Adcock.

GIVE SERIAL DRAFT NUMBERS

These Numbers Will be Posted Publicly Probably Tomorrow—No Drafting This Week.

The county exemption board has been busy this week giving serial numbers to the men who were registered on June 5. Instruction from Washington are to post the numbers publicly as soon as given, and this list will probably be put up tomorrow. One set of the registration cards will be sent to the adjutant general of Missouri in Jefferson City tonight, and the other set will be kept here.

No drafting whatever has been done as yet and probably will not be done for several days.

Same Numbers in Every Precinct.

Under the law the names and numbers must be posted and copies furnished the press. When a number is drawn in the lottery later in Washington it will draft the man holding that number in every precinct in the country.

The Democrat-Forum received several calls from over the county last night, asking if the drawing for the draft had begun. One man said that the message had come saying that numbers 1, 5, 9 and 63 had been drawn. This hoax was carried out in other states, too.

JUDGE LINDSEY REFUSED TO "SNITCH" ON HIS BOY PALS

Head of Juvenile Court Won Hearts of Homeless Young Law Breakers by Keeping Their Confidence

FIGHTS CORPORATE CROOKS

In Battle for Social Justice the Little Judge Has Made Bitter Enemies---Appoint Committee to Spit on Him.

"Don't be a snitcher."

This is the first advice which Ben B. Lindsey, Judge of the Juvenile Court of Denver who is to lecture here during Chautauqua, gives to the young law breakers who are brought before him. The secret of Judge Lindsey's marvelous success in dealing with the youthful wrongdoers is that he has always urged them to not "snitch on their pals." The youngsters come to feel that the judge is a man in whom they can trust and they tell him all about themselves.

Judge Ben B. Lindsey

KEEPS THEIR CONFIDENCES

Judge Lindsey has never broken faith with his boys. When a boy tells his story to Ben Lindsey he knows that it will go no further. Judge Lindsey has been hailed into court for contempt because he refused to "snitch" on one of the boys who had confided in him.

By political trickery Judge Lindsey has had to stand for election to his office twelve times in fifteen years. In the last election he was given the largest majority ever recorded in a Denver municipal election.

Judge Lindsey will be at Chautauqua on the afternoon of the sixth day and will speak on "The Way to Reach the Human Heart."

SOME NEW PROBATE LAWS

Last Legislature Passed Many Measures to Expedite Administration of Estates.

Many new laws were passed by the last legislature to expedite the administration of estates in the probate court. These laws are now in effect.

Following is some of the more important statutes enacted:

Inventory and appraisement to be one paper instead of two, thereby avoiding duplication and expense.

Claims to be allowed must be presented within six months and one year from date of letters (heretofore, the time was not definitely fixed).

When a man dies, leaving no widow, the minor children under eighteen years, are entitled to the same allowance that the wife would be, had there been one. (Under the old law, the age limit was 15 years).

Orders of Publication, upon petition to sell real estate, can be made returnable in thirty days, instead of to the next term, as formerly provided. (This will permit sales to be ordered, made, reported and approved within forty-two days, where, under the operation of the old law, it took several months).

The law has been so amended that sales of real estate of minors and insane persons can be ordered, reported and approved at the same term, instead of being reported at the next term, as formerly provided.

THE MAIL FOR SOLDIERS.

Proper Way to Assure Safe Delivery of Letters Explained to Postmasters.

How to address mail to soldiers with the American expeditionary forces in France is explained by the daily postal letter, a publication sent to every postmaster by the postoffice department. All letters sent to American soldiers abroad are subject to domestic rates and classifications, and only United States stamps are valid. The envelope should bear the complete designation of the division, regiment, company, and organization of the addressee, and the name and address of the sender. Under no circumstances should the sender attempt to designate on the envelope the location of the unit to which the letter is sent.

Mail addresses to members of the American forces in France is sent to New York and from there to Bordeaux, France, from where it is sent to the addressee.

An example of the proper manner of addressing such mail is: John Smith, Co. X, First Infantry, American expeditionary forces.

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With Othine Prescription.

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by any druggist under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine — double strength — and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine; ft is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

Hanging the Flag.

When a flag pole is in a slanting or horizontal position if the rope holding the upper corner of the flag be pulled very tight and the rope holding the lower corner be slackened somewhat, thus allowing the flag to drop slightly away from the pole, the wind will spill out of it. This will do much to prevent the flag from wrapping around the pole.

A little experimenting will show how much to slack away the lower corner. It depends on the size of the flag and the angle of the pole.—New York Sun.

Panama Canal Forts.

The fortifications for the defense of the Panama canal consist of seacoast forts at each end of the canal and field fortifications around the locks. Why Michelin Quality Tires can be Priced so Moderately

The first car on pneumatics Michelin in 1895

Michelin Universal Tread

IT is impossible to build better tires than Michelins at any price. How, then, is it possible to sell Michelin Tires at prices actually below the average?

1st—Michelin invented the pneumatic automobile tire in 1895 and ever since has concentrated on the production of pneumatic tires only.

2nd—Because "Economical Efficiency" is the watch-word of the Michelin organization. Expenditures resulting in better tires or ultimate saving are cheerfully made, but otherwise scrupulously avoided. Resulting economies are passed on to Michelin users.

WILKERSON TO TALK IN OMAHA.

Has Rented Theatre and Will Hold A Mass Meeting—Special Train From Ia.

Omaha, July 5.—Detective J. N. Wilkerson of Villisca ax murder fame has carried the war to Omaha.

Wilkerson has rented the Boyd theatre for Saturday night, July 7, and will hold a mass meeting.

A special train will run from Red Oak and Villisca, carrying a number now estimated at 1,000.

Enjoined from talking in Iowa, through the efforts of Attorney General Havner of that state the Red Oak detective declares he will say here what he had intended to say in Red Oak.

It is believed Wilkerson will have something peppery to say of the injunction obtained against him in Iowa, through the efforts of Attorney General Havner.

SAW FALL OF LIEGE.

South American Tells of Experience In Belgium.

L. Lilva of Columbia, South America, was in Burlington Junction Sunday the guest of O. F. Wilson and Son. Mr. Lilva has a large cattle ranch in Columbia and is in America for the purpose of studying modern breeding methods of registered Hereford cattle.

He visited the Wilson herd, near Burlington Junction in the forenoon, and, accompanied by Mr. Wilson and son and Walter Mendenhall, went to Tarkio in the afternoon and looked at the several fine Hereford herds on the Rankin ranches.

Mr. Lilva has spent the last three years in Europe and was in Liege, Belgium, when that city was attacked by the Germans. He said that 40,000 Belgian troops held a million Germans from the town for seven days but were finally overpowered by the foe.

Mr. Lilva had some interesting experiences in Europe as a result of the war. He is now on his way to his home in South America but will spend several days yet in the central west inspecting registered cattle. — Burlington Junction Post.

Mrs. Clark Andrews went to Shenandoah to visit a few days with relatives.

Miss Irma Linn of St. Joseph is the guest of her sister, Miss Audrey Linn, who is making her home with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Miller and attending the State Normal.

Efforts to Invest Entire Fortune In Liberty Loan.

STORY OF GREAT SUCCESS

Oil Discovered on Lands Allotted Him by Government, and Money Pours Into His Pockets—Is Incompetent In Eyes of Law and Gives Large Sums to His Less Fortunate Tribesmen.

With nearly $800,000 on deposit to his credit in the United States treasury and in a dozen or more banks and with a monthly income of nearly $50,000 derived from oil lands in Oklahoma which he owns, an income more than seven times that of the president of the United States, Jackson Barnett, sixty-three years old, a full blood "incompetent" Creek Indian, living near Henryetta, Okla., through his guardian and by the aid of the department of the interior, sought some legal method by which the greater part of his capital could be invested in liberty bonds, says a recent statement issued by the interior department.

Rockefeller of the Indians.

While Mr. Barnett in point of wealth is the Rockefeller of the Indians in the United States, it is a noteworthy fact that fifty-six Indians of the Five Civilized Tribes of Oklahoma, to which he belongs, have more than $5,000 each to their credit in the United States treasury, many of these deposits far exceeding that amount, and 347 have more than $1,000 to their credit.

Barnett sprang into prominence a few days ago when Carl J. O'Hornett, a leading banker and capitalist of Henryetta, Okla., guardian of the Indian, telegraphed to Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma urging that steps be taken by the United States authorities to invest the greater part, if not all, of Barnett's cash capital in interest bearing liberty bonds. Senator Owen at once communicated with Secretary Lane regarding the suggestion, and the legal problems of the case are now under consideration with a view of determining if the funds of incompetent wards of the nation may be invested as suggested.

Barnett's Story.

The story of Barnett and his rise to wealth and national prominence is a romantic one. The son of a Creek chief, Barnett lived the life of a nomad of the plains, fishing and hunting and avoiding all contact with the white settlers who were slowly but surely encroaching upon and driving the Indians from their hunting grounds. When Indian territory became Oklahoma and the Creeks, Chicasaws, Choctaws, Seminoles and Cherokees, the five civilized tribes, were allotted lands for farming purposes in the eastern section of Oklahoma, Barnett vigorously opposed any movement on the part of the government to improve his condition in life, but the government nevertheless proceeded to execute its plans.

With other Indians of his tribe, Barnett was arbitrarily allotted a parcel of land in the district north of Tulsa, which later was to become the famous Cushing oil fields. Barnett indignantly refused to accept the land, which nevertheless was allotted to him, he explaining that it was fit only for coyotes and jack rabbits to starve in and in nowise suited to the requirements of an humble Indian whose sole desire was to be left alone so that he might hunt and fish and smoke at will.

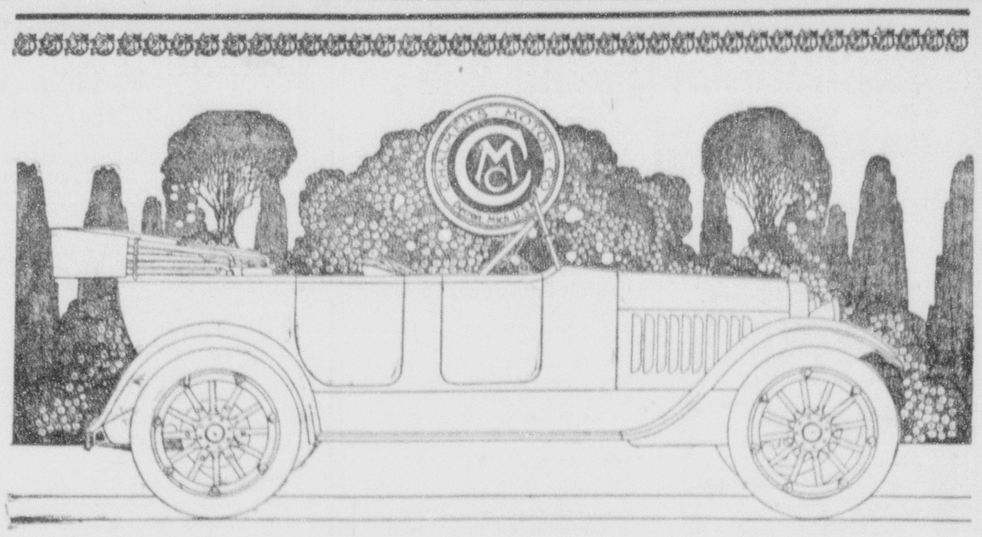
Oil Found on Land.

One day about 1905 oil was discovered in the vicinity of Barnett's land, and a few months later a company of eastern capitalists applied to the department of the interior for a long term lease of Barnett's allotment, which, it was discovered, fairly exuded rich oil throughout its length and breadth. In due time the lease was executed, and by its terms Barnett ever since has received part of the proceeds of the sale of oil from the wells on his property, the money being deposited in national banks of Oklahoma to his credit.

With the stolidity of the men of his race, Barnett displayed no enthusiasm or interest at the official announcement that the land he had spurned as useless and upon which he steadily refused to abide had become enormously valuable and promised to make him a multimillionaire. He declined from time to time to accept a greater portion of his income than was required to supply his humble needs. In signing receipts therefore he made his mark, and, being unable to read or write, he made no attempt to investigate the state of his finances. He seldom spent more than $50 a month for provisions, tobacco and other supplies, and what was left he distributed cheerfully among the less fortunate Indians of his tribe.

Pays Income Tax.

Reports to Secretary Lane on May 1 showed that Barnett had $755,893.06 deposited to his credit in various financial institutions. Of that sum $115,000 is on deposit in state and private banks in Oklahoma, drawing 4 per cent interest, $456,400.74 in nine national banks, drawing 3 per cent, and $184,492.32 in the United States treasury, on which no interest is paid. These deposits are increasing at the rate of $47,082.74 a month. Last year Barnett paid an income tax of $52,000 to the government



THIS IS BUT ONE OF THE TEN GORGEOUS NEW CHALMERS FOR THE FALL

It is the five passenger: there are nine more: a stunning Duplex, which seats four; a sturdy roadster; a very comfortable Cabriolet; a Sedan that is light and sensible; an ultra smart Town Car; a cozy Limousine; an alluring Landaulet; an eighty mile an hour (guarantee) Speedster; a trim, clean cut Touring Car to seat seven.

All of them rare in quality and rich in finish, so thoroughly out of the ordinary that they get the second look from your friends.

Among the ten is probably Your Car—the car that you said some one, some day, would surely build.

If you want speed here it is. If you want beauty here it is. If you want sedateness here it is. If you want supreme comfort here it is.

These ten Chalmers are all different. Yet they all have one common denominator: Quality.

They are ably constructed, and in our judgment Chalmers has never built before such good cars as these.

Possibly you have seen some of the new Chalmers about town. We had hoped to withhold this announcement until a month later, but good news travels fast and out of fairness to those who plan the purchase of a car at this time or later in the fall we are stating our fall plans on Chalmers now.

Come to our Sales Rooms and view at close range the Chalmers illustrated above. You will find it close to finality.

Raised Some Sheep.

J. P. Richardson, living two miles northwest of Elmo, thinks he has broken the record for a small bunch of sheep. He has 27 ewes that raised 36 lambs this summer, there being 15 pairs of twins in the bunch. At present market price of lambs it would make a profit of $20 for each ewe. He also sheared $4.50 worth of wool from each ewe, making a total profit of $24.50 for each ewe. A year ago last spring he bought these sheep for $11 a head, and last year they did nearly as well as this summer.—Elmo Register.

Dr. Dean Family Leaves.

Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Dean and daughter, Miss Cleva, left Monday morning for Santa Fe, N. Mex., where they will make their future home. They stopped at Las Vegas, N. Mex., to spend the Fourth and will arrive in Sante Fe today. Dr. Dean practiced medicine in Burlington Junction ten years, selling his practice last spring to Dr. W. M. Hindman, who is now located here. The Deans did not move their household goods at this time, but will probably return in the fall to do this and make disposition of their home on East Main street.—Burlington Junction Post.
